

Paper Art

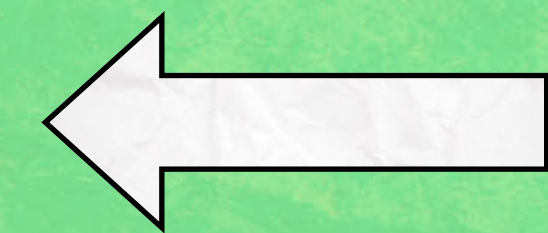

Today we will be...

Exploring different types of paper and how paper is used in art.

How many different types of paper can you think of?

What ideas did you come up with? Let's write a list...

Types of paper

You can use paper in lots more ways than simply painting on it! Artists use paper in lots of different ways to create exciting artwork.

Let's have a look at some examples...

Paper can be used for origami.
Origami is when you fold paper to create shapes.

What
origami animals can you spot?

This model of the city of Prague is made out of paper. It has more than 2,000 buildings!

This sculpture of a man is made from paper.

What do you think he is carrying?

These paper sculptures were created by an artist called Sher Christopher.

What do you think of them?

Some artists use paper to create landscape pictures like these ones...

Today we are going to be exploring some different types of paper to see what they are like.

How do you think we could do this?

What different things could we look at when we are finding out about paper?

You could ask these questions when you are exploring different types of paper...

What does it look like?

How thin or thick is it?

What do you think you could use it for?

What does it feel like?

What does it sound like when you scrunch it?
